

#WHA68: NCD Alliance side event on health and NCDs in post-2015

Langua Anglais

"From Commitment to Action: Delivering on NCDs and Health in the Post-2015 Era"

Against the backdrop of the 68th World Health Assembly, the NCD Alliance will hold on 18 May a high-level panel discussion on the means to deliver on ambitious targets for health and NCDs in the post-2015 development agenda.

The event will provide an opportunity to explore a credible game plan for preventing and managing NCDs as a cross-cutting development issue.

Discussions will consider the state of global and national health architectures; means of implementing an NCD target; sustainable financing and potential accountability mechanisms at all levels.

Speakers include Dr Ala Alwan, Regional Director of WHO Office of the Eastern Mediterranean Region; Dr Timothy Evans, Senior Director, Health, Nutrition & Population, World Bank; and Ms Brenda Killen, Deputy Director of Development Co-operation Directorate at OECD. The event will be moderated by Dr Richard Horton, Editor in Chief, The Lancet.

When: Monday 18 May 2015, 18.30-20.00

Where: Ballroom, Intercontinental Hotel, 7-9 Chemin Du Petit-Saconnex, Geneva, Switzerland

Please use this link [1] to RSVP

More information on our side events, and an extensive calendar of other relevant activities can be found here [2].

Post Date: Wednesday, 13 mai, 2015

Category - News: Announcements

Liens

[1] <http://goo.gl/forms/IK21qVRJNt>

[2] <http://www.ncdalliance.org/68th-world-health-assembly>