

#UNGA71 NCDa briefing and side-event calendar now available

Langue Anglais

The high-level week of the 71st UN General Assembly (UNGA71) will take place from 19 – 23 September 2016. Heads of State and Government will meet to participate in the General Debate, touching upon issues such as progress towards achieving the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), antimicrobial resistance, and the refugee crisis.

It will be the first UN General Assembly since the adoption of the SDGs, and will provide an opportunity for the NCD community to engage across sectors to highlight NCDs and health as a global development priority.

Key messages for the week

The high-level week of UNGA71 and the three high-level meetings taking place during the week enable the NCD and health community to highlight NCDs across the SDGs, champion co-benefit solutions, and encourage a whole of government and sector approach to reducing the burden of NCDs. For more detailed information, download our advocacy briefing in the link below.
