

"No Empty Shelves" on World Diabetes Day

Langue Anglais

On World Diabetes Day, "No Empty Shelves" project calls the public and private sector to help increase access to essential medicines and technologies for diabetes. The NCD Alliance joins over 30 global organisations partners supporting this call to action led by PATH.

Signatories call on policy makers to integrate NCDs into activities to strengthen the health and supply systems in the public and private sectors, including strategies to achieve Universal Health Coverage, with additional actions for multilateral institutions and technical partners, financial contributors, global health advocates, and the private sector.
