

Women and NCDs: A call to action

Langue Undefined

The NCD Alliance and the Task Force on Women and NCDs are calling on governments to take urgent action to integrate NCDs into existing HIV/AIDS and maternal health programmes, ensure Universal Health Coverage, and adopt a gender and evidence-based approach to tackling NCDs across the life course.

This series of pocket cards, “Women and NCDs: A Call to Action”, explores the impact of NCDs at various points throughout the life course, highlighting opportunities for action.

These four cards - girls under five years; girls and adolescents; reproductive years; and beyond reproductive years - delve into some of the most pressing risk factors and NCDs girls and women might encounter at different stages of life, emphasizing the need to deliver integrated, gender-responsive services and programmes.
